NARR/REF A IS MILPERSMAN 133-061, PRIOR SERVICE RE-ENLISTMENT

ELIGIBILITY - RESERVE (PRISE-R) PROGRAM. REF B IS BUPERSINST 1326.4E

ADMINISTRATION OF ENLISTED FLIGHT ORDERS, CAREER ENLISTED FLYER

INCENTIVE PAY, AND HAZARDOUS DUTY INCENTIVE PAY FOR AERIAL FLIGHT.//

RMKS/1. Purpose. This ALNAVRESFOR provides guidance to all Navy

Reserve Activities that have Sailors who entered into the Navy

Reserve under the Prior Service Re-enlistment Eligibility-Reserve

(PRISE-R) program after 2015, but have not completed program requirements as defined in reference (a).

2. Background. The PRISE-R program allows entry into the Navy

Reserve under a temporary rating. This program requires rating-specific training at A or C schools and/or knowledge validation checks through the Navy Wide Advancement Exam (NWAE) in order for that temporary rating to become permanent. The COVID-19 pandemic, recent travel restrictions, and associated training pipeline strains have challenged the ability for many Sailors to complete PRISE-R program requirements to make their rates permanent.

3. Guidance and Eligibility. In order to retain motivated Sailors, this ALNAVRESFOR authorizes Sailors who have not successfully completed PRISE-R program requirements in the timeline set forth in reference (a) to apply via their Navy Reserve Activity Commanding Officer for reversion to their prior permanent rating, in lieu of transfer to the Individual Ready Reserve (IRR) Active Status Pool (ASP). This authorization applies to Navy Veterans (NAVET). Other Service Veterans (OSVETs) are not eligible to apply for rate reversion.

4. Procedures. PRISE-R Sailors who wish to revert to their prior rating may forward an electronic Personnel Action Request (ePAR) (NAVPERS 1306/7) via MyNavy Portal requesting reversion to their prior service rating. Command Career Counselors shall assist in ePAR submission and in the facilitation of below guidance:

a. The ePAR must be endorsed by the Navy Reserve Activity Commanding Officer with reference to this message, and must certify that the Sailor otherwise remains in satisfactory standing as a drilling Reservist (e.g., recommended for retention, minimum of Promotable promotion recommendation on periodic evaluations, no record of non-judicial punishment, etc.).

b. The request must also indicate the Sailor's prior rating, and reasons for the inability to maintain compliance with the PRISE-R program (e.g., inability to complete A or C schools due to schoolhouse backlog).

c. Applications will be forwarded within MyNavy Portal to Reserve Enlisted Community Management (BUPERS-352) via MyNavy Career Center (MNCC) for adjudication.

MNCC may be contacted at: askmncc.fct@navy.mil.

d. Applications will be reviewed using a more flexible lens to support approvals in FY22. Applications will be subject to screening for qualifications, particularly for reversion back to advanced technical and advance electronics ratings (e.g., clearance eligibility). Approval will be contingent on community health and needs of the Navy.

(1) Special Program notes:

(a) Information Warfare communities (IWC). Sailors reverting to IWC source ratings who no longer have TS/SCI eligibility must first meet with the Navy Reserve Activity Command Security Manager (CSM) to complete a SSO Navy Personnel Screening Interview. This suitability screening will determine if a member is eligible to apply for TS/SCI as required. The screening must be completed by the Navy Reserve Activity CSM or NIFR Regional Security Officer/SSO, and results of that screening must be provided to the SELRES IWC ECM before reversion will be approved. A T5 TS/SCI submission via eQIP will be required if a reversion to the IWC has been approved.

(b) Per reference (b), previously qualified Naval Aircrewmembers that have accepted a rating conversion of any kind (i.e., PRISE-R) are not eligible for reinstatement.

5. Sailors who received a recruitment bonus by way of a PRISE-R rating conversion will not be eligible for future payments.

6. Points of Contact:

a. CNRFC PRISE-R Program Manager: cnrfc_priser.fct(at)navy.mil

b. CNRFC Force Security Manager: cnrfc_security1(at)navy.mil
